

CASE STUDY: SENSUM INDUSTRY: CONSTRUCTION

Sensum pride themselves on being leaders in modern construction project management, delivering bespoke services, and cutting-edge solutions to their clients.

“Formitize is now our complete business solution. It is game changing and it has completely streamlined the way our business operates.”

Nick Strongman - CEO

Sensum’s unique background in both project management and design qualifies them as an industry leader in modern construction solutions. They specialise in inherently complex infrastructure projects, which include the diverse needs of multiple stakeholders, tight delivery time frames, and/or budgetary constraints.

Sensum consist of an agile team of highly motivated and experienced staff dedicated to providing a unique and personalised project management service to their clients. Their collaborative team brings a wealth of varied perspectives and construction knowledge through trade, commercial construction, property development, and business administration backgrounds.

Nick from Sensum first found or heard about Formitize after it was referred by an Accountant colleague.

Nick’s previous process created numerous challenges for their business including:

- Time delays
- Paperwork getting lost
- Double if not triple handling

Nick was looking for these Solutions:

- Paperless Forms
- Flexibility of creating forms

Flexibility of Creating Paperless Forms:

Nick says, “We built most of the paperless forms ourselves. They were very straightforward to build. I love the flexibility of creating mobile forms.

“Formitize is now our complete business solution. It is game changing and it has completely streamlined the way our business operates. Formitize is good value for money. We are now using Formitize paperless forms.
